Why Lachen-Speyerdorf in Germany?

- Stable and good weather conditions
  - more than 80% of the competition days are usually usable
- Long distances (> 500km) at high speeds (the fastest: 162,44 km/h) possible
- even on mediocre weather days tasks with 200km are possible in Rhine Valley, due to lee effects of the Palatinate Forest

Why Lachen-Speyerdorf in Germany?

- Excellent transport connection by plane, train or Autobahn
- Located in the heart of Europe
- High recreational value in the region. There is a lot to do and see on rest day ;)
- Good Food, good Wine and nice people!
