History of the FAI Club Class Challenge Cup

1979 The FAI Club Class Challenge Cup was donated by the Swedish Airsport Federation for the 1st European Gliding Championship Club Class in Örebro/ Sweden.

Description of the first Club Class Challenge Cup: A wooden square base holding a metal column with a crystal globe with a glider model on top. The Cup was awarded to the winner of the 1st EGC Club Class to Martin Brunecky of Czech Republic. This FAI Challenge Cup Club Class was awarded until 1998.

1998 the 10th EGC Club Class was organised in Jihlava / CZE. The FAI Challenge Cup was awarded to the winner of the EGC Frank Hahn, Germany, who kept the FAI Challenge Cup Club Class until 2005.

2001 The European Club Class Championships changed to World Championships. The FAI Challenge Cup Club Class was not transferred to the Worlds. The 1st World Gliding Championship in the Club Class took place in Gawler / Australia. The champion Peter Masson from Great Britain was awarded a different cup, possibly a new FAI Challenge Cup, Documentation dealing with this trophy is missing.

2002 the 2nd WGC Club Class at Musbach / Germany was again a stand-alone competition, this continued in 2004 and 2006. There is no certainty whether FAI Challenge Cups were awarded during that period.

2005 The Club Class was included in the Continental competitions: European Gliding Championships. The 13th EGC 2005 in Nitra, Slovakia, was organised in Club Class, Standard- and 18 m Class. Frank Hahn, holder of the FAI Challenge Cup Club Class since 1998 returned the Challenge Cup to the organisers of the EGC in Nitra. The European Champion Sebastian Kawa was awarded with the respective Cup.

2008 The 4th World Gliding Championship Club Class was added to the 30th FAI World Gliding Championships. The WGC 2008 took place in Rieti in three classes, Standard Class, Club Class and World Class. A new FAI Club Class Challenge Cup:, was presented to the World Champion Matthias Sturm, Germany. This FAI Challenge Cup Club Class has been passed on to the next current World Champion since then.
